七、閱讀測驗 (每題 2 分，共 20 分)

(一)

In Taiwan, we can see many foreign spouses in cities and towns. Some of them come from countries like Vietnam, Indonesia, or Thailand. They live in Taiwan with their families and try hard to build a new life here.

However, life is not always easy for them. Some foreign spouses cannot speak Chinese well, and they may not understand Taiwanese culture at first. Because of this, some people may misunderstand them or treat them unfairly. Some people even think they come to Taiwan only for money. This idea is not true, and it can hurt their feelings.

Their children may also have problems at school. Some classmates may laugh at them because their mother or father is from another country. Some children may even be bullied. A mother from Vietnam once told her child, “Don’t let others decide who you are. Try to enjoy your life and be strong.” Even so, her child still felt sad and did not want to go to school.

We should remember that everyone is equal. Foreign spouses and their children need respect and kindness. A smile, a kind word, or fair treatment can make their lives in Taiwan much happier.

spouse 配偶 bullied 被霸凌 equal 平等的
misunderstand 誤解 unfairly 不公平地

41. What is the passage mainly about?
- (A) Why people should learn Vietnamese?
- (B) The problems foreign spouses and their children may face in Taiwan.

Modern families change their sizes, don't they? Most of the relatives don’t live together anymore, and having only one child is the major trend today. Many people want to know why family sizes are becoming smaller and smaller. Money is a big problem. Lots of costs, like education and health care, are rising every year. Another reason is that husband and wife usually both work. They don’t have enough time to take care of their children. Besides, when people get married, most of them are 35 or older. At that age, it is hard for women to have a child, let alone more children. Some parents worry _____. But when their children grows up, spending time with friends can also help solve the problem. Studies also show that the only child can grow up happily, just like children with brothers or sisters.

Modern 現代的 major 主要的 trend 趨勢 education 教育 let alone 更不用說 lonely 寂寞的

(Susan and Mark are texting about Kevin’s birthday party.)

Susan: Mark, today is Kevin’s birthday. We are going to meet at his house, aren't we? Lynn, Kelly, and Sam are coming, too.

Most of the food has been decided. For example, Lynn will buy some spaghetti, and Kelly will buy a big cheesecake.

Sam told me that he would bring two pizzas, and I will buy three boxes of cookies at Teddy's. We only need some drinks now. Can you buy some on your way there? But don't buy any juice because one of Kevin's parents, his mom, will make some for us.

Mark: Susan, I’d love to go, but I’m not sure whether I can arrive on time. My parents are not home today, so I need to buy dinner for my brothers first. Both of my brothers love fried chicken. After that, I will buy some cola and milk tea for the party. I will try my best to be there soon. See you then!

Spaghetti 義大利麵
